EASTERN CANADA.

The Most Important News Condensed from Eastern Exchanges.

A distant shock of earthquake was felt in Sydney, Cape Breton, on the 13th, lasting ten seconds and causing great excitement.

Hon. G. W. Ross has been unanimously nominated as local member for West Middlesex.

There was a lively contest for the presidency of the Toronto Young Men's Liberal club. Mr. W. D. Gregory was elected by 86 votes, his opponent H. C. Robinette getting 46. Mr. Dewart was elected first-vice president and A. J. Rogers second vice-president.

William Whitlock and Joseph Birdwhistle left Murphy Point, about half a mile up the river from Brockville, for Old Man's Island. They reached their destination, imbibed freely of liquor, purchased two large bottles of the liquor and started for Brockville. Their boat upset, Birdwhistle was drowned and Whitlock rescued by a passing yacht.

Archdeacon Leach, vice-principal of the McGill University, died at Montreal on the 13th, aged eighty-one.

It is rumored that J. C. Patterson, M. P., for North Essex, will join the Dominion Cabinet.

The steam saw mill of James Conmee, M. P. P., was completely destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss will be heavy.

Alfred Smith and his wife were charged at the Toronto police court with manslaughter in causing the death of their child on the 25th of September last, during a drunken orgie.

An extraordinary stabbing affray is reported in Ottawa. Several small children were playing together among whom being Detective Montgomery's little six-year-old boy and a neighbor's child about the same age, who had only recently came from the Northwest. The last mentioned youth suggested that they should play "Northwest," and nothing loth the rest joined in. After a good deal of rollicking and horse play, the one who proposed the game drew a knife which he had about him and inflicted a horrible gash on the forehead of Tommy Montgomery. The cut was about three inches long and greatly jeopardized one of the eyes. The poor little fellow, blinded with blood, made the best of his way home, which was but a few doors distant and had his wound dressed. No motive can be assigned for the act but a bloodthirsty recollection of what he had heard and seen in his prairie home.

The Ontario provincial board of health has been called together three weeks earlier than usual, owing to diphtheria having become unusually prevalent throughout the province. The disease has broken out at the blind asylum, Brantford, and one death is reported.

The residence of Mrs. M. Lawlor, Courville street and Laval Ave., Montreal, was robbed of $1,500 in jewelry and $150 in cash on the evening of the 11th inst. Mrs. Lawlor and her three daughters were all chloroformed. The burglars were so unconcerned as to take the time to have a lunch of stolen viands in the kitchen.

A GLENGARRY CENTENARY.

The First Arrival of Scottish Emigrants a Hundred Years Ago.

A hundred years ago this month the first European emigrants who settled in Upper Canada, landed at Quebec. They were Scotch from Knovdart and parts thereabout, on the mainland opposite Skye. McGillis from Morar and Macdonalds of the Chanranald division, made up the bulk of the party.

The migration was the result of evictions by chieftains of the tenants, for the purpose of converting the holdings into sheep runs. The deportation of the Acadians was an act of less appalling brutality.

Without conveyances the exiles could not take advantage of what roadway there might have been from Quebec westward. They trudged along the banks of the St. Lawrence, towing the families and baggage in flat boats. Two hundred and forty miles was the length of the journey, and its incidents of hardship and endurance should be broadly written in the records of the province.

Glengarry was fixed upon as the new home of the Highlanders. It was too late in the season to enter upon the lands, and the winter was spent in camp near the present village of Lancaster. Hence the actual location on the lots took place in the spring of 1787.

The subsequent career of the settlement—the physical improvement, the intellectual expansion, the peasant evolving into the freeman, and the tenant and serf rent into the freeholder—has received but a glimmering narration. We hope the day is within one span when a Canadian, having the gift of John Richard Greene to trace the development of a people, will mark and explain how these humble Scotch crofters within the first generation on our soil marvellously gained in mental and bodily vigor; how within two generations there came forth statesmen, merchants, contractors, soldiers, ecclesiastics; and how, as we are now witnessing, their unslackened activity finds vent in pushing westward once more.

That this wonderful story of Canadian advancement remains untold is a broad reason for Glengarry celebrating her centennial years. She has been a fruitful mother of men to whom Canada may feel grateful, and of women whose glory is that they reared a race of greater strength and stature than was ever seen in the fatherland—a rack fitted to cope with extraordinary obstacles.—Toronto World.

THE ORIGIN OF NEWS.

"What do you understand by the word news?" This is a question that was asked me the other day. "Why! something new that has occurred, I suppose," was my reply. "But do you know how the word originated?" I was obliged to confess my ignorance, and imagining my young readers may be as much in the dark, will tell them my friend's ingenious explanation, which she said she came across in an old book, printed long before you or I were born. N, you know, stands for north; E, for east; W, for west; and S, for south; so the four letters were combined together to form the word news, now used for all that is happening north, south, east, and west. A newspaper, therefore, tells us by its very name that it is a chronicler of events in all parts of the world.

LIBERTY'S STATUE.

The Official Programme of the Ceremonies of Bartholdi Day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The programme of the exercises to be observed at the dedication of the Statue of Liberty, Oct. 28, has been given out by the American Committee and approved by Major-General Schofield. It has been decided to begin the exercises of Bartholdi Day with a grand military, naval and civic parade through the principal streets of the city. In this the United States troops, the State militia, squadron and the troops from the French fleet that will then be in the harbor will participate, with a long line of French and American organizations and associations of veterans, firemen and citizens.

Upon the arrival of the column at the battery the military will be taken on board transports, which, headed by the French and American fleets, will take their stations near Liberty Island. Then the military bands and such forces as are assigned to places on the Island will be landed. Platforms will be erected upon the parapets at the base of the statue, where the speakers and those who are to participate in the exercises will be located.

The ceremonies at the statue will last during the afternoon, after which the fleet of French and American war vessels will salute each other and go through evolutions. The huge torch of the statue will then be lighted and then the flotilla will return to the city and the French visitors will be given a banquet.

The place of honor in the column and at the exercises on Liberty Island will be given to the French visitors who will be the guests of the American Committee. Invitations have been sent to the Governors of all the States, many of whom expressed their desire to be present with their staffs.

To those not familiar with its details the colossal statue now looks as if it was complete. The head and face and the entire right arm have been put in place. The support of the huge torch, which is in the grasp of the right hand, is in place, and it remains now to put the fingers and upper part of the torch in position. Workmen are employed securing the balcony around the torch, in fitting together the joints of the winding iron staircase which leads through the interior of the extended arm to the highest part of the statue. Several hundred rivets are to be placed in the drapery of the statue before the plates are finally secured.

About the base of the statue the grounds have been cleared of all the refuse that accumulated since the building of the pedestal was begun. Men are busy repairing the old pier for Bartholdi Day, when its capacity will be taxed to its utmost.

Now that the Statue of Liberty is so nearly completed, it will be necessary soon to appoint a keeper of the light, for it will be a lighthouse as well as a statue. The collector has the appointment of the keepers of all the other lighthouses in this vicinity and he will probably be vested with the authority to appoint the keeper of the Statue of Liberty. The Bartholdi Committee have already received applications from persons who wish the position for its endorsement.

In response to an invitation from America, a syndicate of the Paris press has appointed Charles Bigot to represent the press at the inauguration of the statue. The city of Paris will be represented by M. Deschamps, vice-president of the municipal council.

ESCAPES FROM SIBERIA.

The Russian Government Alarmed—The Horrors of Russian Prisons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Sun's St. Petersburg special says: "Despite official secrecy, the police have received full confirmation from Siberia of the reported escape of M. Degaieff, the famous Nihilist conspirator, who planned and assisted in the murder of Lieut.-Colonel Sudeikin, Chief of Police, and one of his staff three years ago. The police traced Degaieff to Genova and have vainly endeavored to wheedle the Swiss government into extraditing him. The police are getting nervous over the frequent escapes from Siberia this year. A few who ventured to return to St. Petersburg have been recaptured and returned, but the majority made their way to Geneva and London. Plotting against the government has been renewed with redoubled fervor. Since June at least twenty Siberian prisoners escaped, including two cavalry officers and several students, some of them escaping by way of Cambodia. The precautions which are observed throughout Siberia are so stringent that the Government is persuaded that the escapes could not have been effected without comivance with the prison officials. A commission has been sent to Siberia to enquire into the matter and organize an entire system of prison government. A number of high officials under whose charge the escaped prisoners were have been suspended. Some of the officers who were either criminally negligent or else assisted in releasing the prisoners have been arrested and thrown into prison. The refugees report that the Siberian prisons and mines are crammed with exiles. Disease is rampant, scurvy being especially severe. The mortality is frightful, the prisoners dying off like sheep with the rot. The Nihilists are greatly excited and rejoice over the many escapes, but declare that they will not strike again until they are sure of their mark.

SAM JONES' APHORISMS.

How a dying sinner hates to have a hypocrite slobbering over him!

Money is a big thing down here, but I tell you old fellow, shrouds ain't got no pockets in them.

The meanest man in town is the man who will serve the Devil all week and then go to church on Sunday for God to pay him his wages.

A good honest case of religion would straighten you out so as your wife wouldn't know you.

I want to be understood on this debt business. If you can't pay your debts you have got the sympathy of God and angels, but if you can pay your debts and don't, God will put you in hell for it.

A man fails in business and the next thing you hear of him he is agent of his wife. Think of a great big bulk of a fellow being towed around as agent by his wife!

"Mr. Jones, is it any harm to dance?" You poor silly little thing, go and dance all you want now; for it's going to be so warm where you are going you can't dance much.

A young lady once died in a dancing assembly. The Devil came and carried her off body and soul. St. Peter followed after him, and claimed her, as she was a Methodist. "Well," said the Devil, "you may have her, but she died in my territory."

AMERICAN HAPPENINGS.

THE K. OF L.

RICHMOND, Oct. 20.—The general assembly began the last session of the convention of 1886 this afternoon at 9 o'clock. The first business taken up was the report of the committee on co-operation, and the next that came up were reports of half a dozen special committees. One of these was the committee on woman's work. Among the recommendations it presented was one in favor of the appointment of women, who should investigate and report on all subjects connected with female wage-workers, and aid in the organization of local assemblies of women employed in the various industries throughout the country.

CHOLERA IN JAPAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The steamer City of Peking arrived this morning with Hongkong dates to September 23d, and Yokohama dates to Oct. 7th. Cholera in Japan continues to rage with a terrible percentage of mortality. Between Sept. 16th and 26th there were nine thousand five hundred new cases, and six thousand two hundred deaths—or an average mortality of sixty-five per cent. in Tokio alone. There were five hundred and sixty new cases and five hundred and six deaths in Seoule. In Corea cholera is reported to have disappeared as suddenly as it had come.

RAILWAY AMALGAMATION.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—A special from Albuquerque, N. M., says there are apparently well authenticated statements made here this morning to the effect that the Atcheson, Topeka and Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific railways had been consolidated, with general offices of the new company at Topeka. General Manager Robinson, of the Atlantic and Pacific, has already resigned and a formal announcement of the consolidation will, it is expected, be made in a few days.

TILDEN'S WILL.

WHITEPLAINS, N.Y, Oct. 20.—The will of Samuel J. Tilden was admitted to probate this morning in the Surrogates court here without opposition. Andrew H. Green, Jno. Bigelow and Geo. W. Smith, executors and trustees, immediately qualified as such.

ASSIGNMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—The firm of Doe, Kimball & Co., commission merchants and wholesale lumber dealers, at 104 Market street, made an assignment to-day for the benefit of their creditors. The firm became heavily involved in consequence of building a mill near Mendocino. The mill cost $130,000, which is much more than they estimated.

THE FUTURE MIKADO ARRIVES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Prince and Princess Kamatsu, of the Japanese Royal family, and suite, arrived this morning from Yokahama, on the steamer City of Peking, en route to Europe.

SELIGMAN BECOMES GROSS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Miss Angele Seligman, daughter of J. D. Seligman, the well-known" banker, was married last night to Albert H. Gross, at Delmonico's.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 11.—A telegram from Birtle says: "Prairie fires are fearful around here; my farm house and all my farm buildings are burned; fires are raging in all directions." Details of losses also came from other sections, but there appears to be no new disasters.

TO MURDER STANFORD.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Something of an excitement was created to-day in Farragut Square, where Senator Stanford's house is situated. Several times during the evening the neighbors in that vicinity noted a well-dressed, gentlemanly appearing man, who showed a disposition to enter the Senator's house surreptitiously. An officer was finally summoned, who told the man to move on. This the latter refused to do, and became very abusive. He finally drew a revolver and said it was his intention to enter the house and kill the entire Stanford family. He said, in explanation, that he was a professor at the College of New Jersey, and had applied for the presidency of the new Leland Stanford Jr., University of California. Senator Stanford, he continued, had not deigned to answer his application, and this insult he proposed to wipe out in blood. The prisoner, on being further examined, was recognized as having escaped from the Elizabeth Insane Asylum. He is a hatter, but labors under the delusion that he is a poet, scholar and school teacher.

THE GREATEST TELESCOPE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—A dispatch was received at the office of the James Lick Trust Commission from Alvin Clark & Son, of Boston, stating that the latter had succeeded in manufacturing an object glass for the telescope at Mount Hamilton. It cost $51,000.

The Idaho left for Alaska at 10:15 last night.

The Maude arrived this morning at 10 o'clock from Port Simpson and way ports.

The German bark Bylgis, seized at Port Moody on Sunday for smuggling curios, was fined $420 by the customs authorities. She left at noon yesterday for Port Townsend in tow of the tug Pilot, and will load lumber at Port Blakely for Shanghai.

Rev. Wm. Barnes, the distinguished poet, philologist and historian is dead.

THE LAND SLIDE.

The Accident on the C. P. R.—An Enormous Cave In.

PORT MOODY, Oct. 20.—The land slide on Tuesday morning was three miles west of Ashcroft, near Black Canyon. It was very serious but no lives were lost. The engineer was badly scalded and was sent back to Kamloops for medical aid. His left hand and leg were injured. Fifty acres slid out several hundred feet and sank 50 feet, the rails remaining connected in mid-air. The engine, tender and baggage car rolled over, but the balance of the train remained on the track; the express goods, mail, baggage were saved. The accident happened at 2 o'clock. Passengers were transferred to another train on the west of the slide. Freight traffic will be interrupted for some days. The slide extends about fifteen hundred feet, and the west end is a perpendicular cut of about 50 feet deep. Supt. Abbott and Engineer Cambie were on the scene in the evening and a large gang of men were immediately put to work to repair the damage. Through passenger traffic will be uninterrupted and in a few days freight traffic will be resumed again. The engineer was found lying on his back, and had to be dug out from the engine which sank in the sand and gravel. The place where the accident happened is quick sand bottom, and probably a new track will have to be built. Passengers knew little of the accident until daylight. The train was moving slowly on an up-grade at the time of the accident, and the engineer had his hand on the throttle applying more steam. When he felt the engine sinking he applied the full strength of the air brakes, thus saving the passengers lives, and the total destruction of the train. A freight train passed an hour before, and the trackman a few minutes. The train was in charge of Conductor Risteen. All worked like heroes to save lives and property. The west bound passengers were delayed here twelve hours.

MORNING DISPATCHES.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Powers Disapprove of Alexander's Re-election—Severe Railway Accident.

ROME, Oct. 19.—The next budget will contain a credit of 250,000 lires for changing rifles, completing forts and providing for an additional squadron of cavalry.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—All the powers, including England, have formally assured Russia that they disfavor Prince Alexander's return to Bulgaria and will not approve of his re-election to the Bulgarian throne.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—Reliable advices from Baden affirm that the bulletins reporting Emperor William as being in good health are positively untrue. According to these advices the Emperor is subject to attacks of syncope and prolonged drowsiness and recently was in a semi-comatose condition for twenty-four hours, from which the doctors were unable to arouse him. His condition is aggravated, it is said, by a chronic disease of the bladder. It is feared it will be impossible, with the utmost care, to preserve his life for more than a few months longer.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Grand Duke Nicholas, heir to the Russian throne, who is afflicted with pulmonary disease is in a precarious condition. It is feared that he will not recover.

Mlle. Christine Nilsson is seriously ill with bronchitis. Her tour has been abandoned.

UNITED STATES.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 19.—A construction train on the Nebraska & Colorado division of the B. & M. Railway was thrown from the track nine miles southwest of Fairfield this afternoon. The whole train was precipitated down the embankment 25 feet and six cars were totally wrecked. Five men were killed outright and nine more seriously injured. John Fitzgerald, President of the Irish Land League, and the contractor in charge of the work were seriously injured. But one of the injured is considered dangerously hurt. The wreck was caused by the engineer running over a bull.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—A young man stood on the bank of Lake Merritt in Oakland this morning, cut his throat with a knife and walked into the water. No sooner had he struck the water then he struggled to reach the shore again. He was assisted by some men who came to his aid, and he died in a few minutes. A bank account bearing the name of Michael Flanuagan was found in one of his hip pockets; it showed a credit of $250. In another pocket was found $69 in coin. The suicide was about 25 years of age.

A PROFITABLE BOOK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Gen. Grant to-day received from Webster & Co., the publisher of the General's memoirs, a cheque for $150,000, being the second payment on account of the profits on the work. The former payment was $200,000. Mr. Webster said that probably within a few months Mrs. Grant would receive $100,000 more. An edition de luxe is being prepared, which will be the most unique in the history of publishing. The edition will be limited to 500, or at most 1000 sets, and each set will probably cost $100. Each set will contain a page or part of a page of the original manuscript written by the general. The edition is to be finely illustrated, three of the pictures to be wholly new.

THE TELEGRAPH TRANSFER.

"Mr. Gisborne says that the government will save at least $20,000 by transferring the government telegraph lines in British Columbia to the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company. The latter will not now be a competitor for the business. Last year the government lines in that province did not pay." And he might have added that the probability was the people of this province would get a cheaper and a better service.

About 5,000 men are at present employed by the California & Oregon railroad extension and it is expected that the road will be completed to Sissons, a point 88 miles distant from Ashland by the end of the present month. It is probable that through connection will be made in ten months, as much of the hard work is over with.

THE BULGARIAN MUDDLE

A Spirited Answer to the Porte's Base Proposal.

Turkish Troops Massing on the Frontier—The End Coming.

SOFIA, Oct. 20.—The Bulgarian government is arranging with a London firm for a loan of £400,000. Stambuloff, Rabalstavoff and Dultchiff have received anonymous letters threatening them with death if they continue to resist Russia.

SOFIA, Oct. 20.—Gadban Effendi, the Turkish representative, has informed the Bulgarian Ministry that he has been instructed to act in concert with Gen. Kanlbars, the Russian agent, whose arrival at Sofia, Gadban Effendi says, he will await before making Turkey any definite proposal to Bulgaria. He strongly advises the ministry, however, in the meantime to concede Russia's demands, and postpone the meeting of the Great Sobrange to elect a successor to the Bulgarian Throne. As soon as Gadbar Effendi's information had been received a special Cabinet Council was held to consider what he had presented. The result of this council was that Gadban Effendi was informed that the Bulgarian government would no more brook Turkish than it would Russian interference, but would resist both with the conviction that any misfortunes likely to overtake Bulgaria would never compare in seriousness with the retribution awaiting the infatuation of Turkey's representative. In pro-Russian circles it is said that Gadban Effendi has confidentially stated that the Czar has made arrangements with the Porte, the Czar guaranteeing the integrity of the Sultan's dominion, reducing the Turkish indemnity and obtaining permission to garrison and fortify the Dardanelles and to occupy Bulgaria with Russian and Roumelia with Turkish troops.

SOFIA, Oct. 20.—Alarm is felt here over the massing of Turkish troops, which is at present in progress on the Bulgarian frontier. The regency have published a decree consenting to the Great Sobranje meeting on October, 27. All the foreign consuls, excepting the Russian representative, will attend.

GENERAL McPHERSON DEAD.

RANGOON, Oct. 20.—Major General McPherson, commander of the British army of occupation in Burmah, is dead. He died from fever after but two days illness.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. E. Crow Baker, M. P., will leave for San Francisco on H. M. S. Triumph on Friday.

Major Dupont's condition has improved, and unless a change should take place for the worse, he will recover.

Miss Bertha Piper is a candidate on the prohibition ticket for County Auditor at Seattle. The young lady's name is familiar to many Victorians.

Henry Villard sailed from Europe for New York last week. He intends to remain permanently in the United States and comes as a representative of a German syndicate of great wealth.

James H. Innes, R. N., Esquimalt, B.C., was staying at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, last week. He is expected home in a few days.

Ex-Governor A. N. Richards was registered at "The Tacoma," Tacoma, Monday last. He is en route to Bermuda to spend the winter.

Mr. A. Maitland Stenhouse, M. P. P., sailed for the East Coast this morning. As long as he can get a steamer Mr. Stenhouse intends to travel by sea till Comox is installed in the full complement of her railway rights.

Mr. J. F. Allison, of Similkameen, is in the city. He has nothing of a special interesting character to report from the mines. About 700 miners, mostly Chinese, remain in the district, many of them making good wages, and some a trifle better.

Mr. John Torrance, general manager of the Dominion line of steamships, is at the Driard, having arrived yesterday evening. His visit is purely one of pleasure, and for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the present position and future prospects of the Northwest and British Columbia.

At the Oriental: J F Allison, Similkameen; P T Bone, Rogers Pass; G Riley, Chemainus.

At the Clarence: R Woodward, Montreal; F Gregory, Vancouver; W D C Spike, W C Haywood, Port Moody; S W McMichael, Toronto; J Watters, Ottawa; J R Morrison, Vancouver; A H Hamilton, Montreal; Mrs J Lovett, Alabama.

At the Driard: O H Roller, G J Campbell, F L Schmidt, San Francisco; G Davis, Seattle; John Torrance, Montreal; W Campbell, St Johns; F Mitchell, New Westminster.

Passengers by the Starr to-day: R Stevenson, Miss Galler, J W Viant, Hallock, wife and 3 children, C Hobson, B Mitchell, J Morris, Duggan, D McCarthy, J J Bacon, Olson, J Evans, Cervey, R H Borton, Bissell, Wm Whittaker, Downing, Troupe and wife, Wm J H Gray, Miss Allen, C Gabriel, Jungerman, Pierce, R Gardner, H Moore, Ferguson, McFarland, Murphy, Dooley, Mrs Covey and daughter, W Jones.

THE TEA TRADE.

The Enormous Business that the Canadian Pacific is Developing.

So rapidly has the tea trade over the C. P. R. developed, that it has been found necessary to store the consignments at Hochelaga, the Quebec Gate freight sheds not having sufficient accommodation. This season's statistics show the following results: There were 12,496,187 lbs. of tea brought via San Francisco, and 7,252,047 by the Suez Canal. By the Canadian Pacific railway, the following have already arrived:

	Lbs.
W B Flint	1,316,793
Thos F Stafford	1,056,074
Zenora	528,306
Bylgis	150,000
Total	3,073,093
To arrive.
Carrie Delap	1,8[illegible]
Endora	1,1[illegible]
Seventh vessel chartered	1,[illegible]
Grand total for the season	3,[illegible]

The value of the tea averages about 25 cts. per lb. in bulk, so that the total value imported via C. P. R. will be nearly $[illegible],000,000.—Montreal Star.

—The opening concert of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the new rooms this evening commencing at 8 o'clock. The programme is choice.

UNSATISFACTORY CONDITION

Our morning friend returns to its defence of Mr. DUCK, and after a labored effort to be eulogistic succeeds only in condemning the late Finance Minister. We are now told that "had Mr. DUCK resigned immediately after the elections the affairs of his office would possibly have been left in a very unsatisfactory condition." Very "possibly" they would. But we know of no reason why the finances of the province, or the clerical work of the Finance Department should be in an "unsatisfactory condition," if Mr. DUCK was only half competent for the position. They were, "possibly," in a fearfully chastic state if it has taken him four months to "straighten them out." But what proof is there that he has not still further muddled the admittedly "unsatisfactory condition" of the Treasury Department, or that the government, forced at length to take cognizance of his incumbency of an office for which, according to the Colonist, he was by nature and education, totally unfitted, did not request his resignation. The organ really is not explicit enough, and leaves more milk in the cocoa nut than it takes out. It must not forget that if has the ear of the government, and is in a position to enlighten the public.

We are not conscious of ever having treated Mr. DUCK to anything more scurrilous than quotations from the Colonist, published only a few years ago by that very genteel paper, when DUCK was on the opposite side of the political fence. The bitter and malignant persecution to which Mr. DUCK was then treated, and the grossly personal allusions made from day to day, are doubtless still as fresh in his memory as they are in the mind of the public. But the TIMES might have, with equal propriety, gone farther than the Colonist in "scurrility" because Mr. DUCK became traitor to his former friends and deserved no quarter from them. When the Colonist was abusing him, he was at least an honorable opponent.

We had hoped that our esteemed contemporary, after the recent change, would have turned over a new leaf but the hope it appears was a vain one. Like the scent of the rose attaching to the shattered rose, the aroma of the old editor clings to the organ still.

A WISE MOVE.

A proposition to abolish the official Hansard of the British House of Commons found favor in a recent discussion of the printing estimates. Many members considered the publication useless because the reports are not issued for a week or more after the delivery of speeches; others objected that the Hansard is wholly compiled from newspaper reports, those of the Times furnishing most of the copy. Hence it was argued that the Times' weekly compilation should be taken in lieu of Hansard. It was remarked on all hands that no other paper in England gives full reports always or verbatim reports often. Mr. LABOUCHERE observed that the people do not care to read long speeches, and that the newspapers, having but a limited space at command, must devote it to matters concerning which their readers press for information. This is as true for Canada as for England, and contains a valuable lesson for our members of parliament. They cannot expect to be reported fully or even summarized efficiently unless they take the trouble to make their speeches shorter. Newspapers will no longer make room for columns of sentences which express no more than might be packed into a few hundred words. It is too much to ask from the most efficient reporter that he shall give that strained attention to essays in tautology and circumlocution which would enable him to state accurately what little meaning was included. The shortest and perhaps the best way is merely to mention that "Mr. WINDBAG spoke." Thus the man whose flow of words is a curse to himself and a weariness to hearers, seldom gets credit, even when he has said something worth recording. He is a bore to the House, and a nonentity in newspaper reports, whereas he might become somebody to everybody by acting on a mighty vow to speak for no more than ten minutes at once till he began to find nearly his every word reported. That vow would compel him to speak straight to the point, and make his utterances strong and refreshing. The members of the British Columbia Legislature are not advised to wear the cap if it fits; but, as SAM JONES recommends to throw it away and get a better one.

FOUNDERS OF CONFEDERATION.

From every political platform and hustings on the Conservative side it has been heralded that Sir JOHN MACDONALD and his party were the founders and projectors of Confederation. The matter has been discussed in this province, and at the request of a correspondent in the New Westminster district, who is anxious to learn the actual facts concerning the attitude taken by Sir JOHN MACDONALD and other prominent politicians then in existence (1864) we give the following facts which are taken from the Journals of the House of June 14, 1864. Already all doubt as to Sir JOHN'S attitude on the question after the agreement had been arrived at has been conclusively settled by the disclosure of his efforts in London to convert the proposed Confederation into a Legislative Union. All doubt as to his attitude before the agreement was arrived at can be removed by the following extract on the date above referred to.

"The Honorable Mr. Brown, from the Select Committee appointed to enquire into the important subjects embraced in a despatch to the Colonial Minister, addressed to him on the 22d February, 1859, by the Hon. Geo. E. Cartier, the Hon. A. T. Galt, and the Hon. John Ross, then members of the Executive Council of this Province while in London, acting on behalf of the Government of which they were members, in which they declared that 'very grave difficulties now present themselves in conducting the Government of Canada in such a manner as to show due regard to the wishes of its numerous population;' that 'differences exist to an extent which prevents any perfect and complete assimilation of the views of the two sections; that 'the progress of population has been more rapid in the western section, and claims are now made on behalf of its inhabitants for giving them representation in the Legislature in proportion to their numbers;' that 'the result is shown by an agitation fraught with great danger to the peaceful and harmonious working of our constitutional system, and consequently detrimental to the progress of the Province;' and that 'the necessity of providing a remedy for a state of things that is yearly becoming worse, and of allaying feelings that are daily being aggravated by the contention of political parties, has impressed the advisers of Her Majesty's representative in Canada with the importance of seeking for such a mode of dealing with these difficulties as may forever remove them;' and the best means of remedying the evils set forth, presented to the House the report of the said committee, which was read as follows:

That the committee have held eight meetings, and have endeavored to find some solution for existing difficulties likely to receive the assent of both sections of the province. A strong feeling was found to exist among the members of the committee in favor of changes in the direction of a Federative system, applied either to Canada alone or to the whole British North American provinces, and such progress has been made as to warrant the committee in recommending that the subject be again referred to a committee at the next session of Parliament.

"The whole respectfully submitted.

(GEO. BROWN, Chairman."

The committee differed as to the adoption of this report, and the yeas and nays being called for were taken down as follows:

YEAS—Hons. Messrs. Cartier, Galt, Macdougall, Cameron, Holton, Turcotte, McGee, Chapais, Brown, Mowat, A. McKillar, T. C. Street—12.

NAYS—Hons. Messrs. J. A. Macdonald, J. S. Macdonald and M. Scobie.—3.

THE Hartford Post gives the following as the three degrees of what is now a very common occurrence in the United States:—First degree, speculation; second degree, defalcation; third degree, humiliation, prison or Canada.

A SCOTTISH newspaper, the Highlander, describes the eviction of one PETER SHAW of Inverness, which involved great hardship to the man and his family. Mrs. SHAW succeeded her father in possession of the farm, and the dwelling had been built by the latter at his own expense. During his tenancy the rent had been increased from £27 to £40, which amount the SHAW's were unably to pay, owing to losses by floods, bad crops and cattle disease. The family were turned out with their effects in the midst of a pelting rain storm, without a farthing in their pockets, and the officers then, pursuant to orders, buried down the house and outbuildings. The landlord in the case is the CHISHOLM of CHISHOLM.

THE Daily Telegraph of Melbourne denounces in the strongest terms the atrocities committed by the English in northwestern Australia upon the aborigines. It appears that under the eyes of the rich and powerful Society for the Protection of the Aborigines a slave trade of the most revolting character has been flourishing for years. "Eternal justice alone," says the Daily Telegraph, "can render an adequate satisfaction to the horror that such infamies inspire. The seas of the south are red with the blood that has flown in the abominable assassinations committed by the English." A clergyman named GRIBBLES seems to have been one of the first to denounce this traffic, and the Neo-Caledonien of Noumea also speaks of atrocities committed by the English upon the natives as an everyday pastime.

The Weekly Times

Special Inducement

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Desiring that the Weekly Times should be read in every family, and found in every house and cabin in British Columbia, the publishers have decided upon offering the following rare and unheard of inducements to new subscribers.

Every person remitting $2 along with his own name, or that of a friend to whom he wishes the Weekly Times to be sent, will receive a copy up to the 1st of January, 1888; that is the balance of the current year and the whole of next year for one year's subscription. Names therefore should be handed in at once to receive the full benefit of this advantageous offer.

EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS.

The publishers have perfected a scheme for dividing amongst the subscribers to the Weekly Times valuable prizes, amongst which will be a

GRAND BELL ORGAN,

Style 45, B, costing the publishers $250. The instrument is now on view in C. A. Lombard's Music Store, Government street. This will be the FIRST PRIZE. The world wide fame of these organs is a sufficient guarantee as to the quality of the instrument to be given to a Weekly Times subscriber.

A Half Case, beautifully finished

DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE,

the retail price of which is $75, purchased by the publishers from Mr. T. W. Fletcher's Sewing Machine Emporium, Fort street. The excellence of this machine was demonstrated at the late exhibition, by the beautiful work executed on it; the ease of motion, rapidity and its marvellous stillness, and the wide range of work the Domestic can perform places it at once at the head of all rivals. This machine will be awarded to a fortunate subscriber to the Victoria Weekly Times. This will be the second prize.

A FIRST CLASS PLOW,

to be selected from the ordinary plows kept in stock by Messrs. Nicholles & Renouf, at their mammoth Hardware, Machinery and Implement warehouse, Yates and Broad streets, Victoria. The makes kept in stock by this firm are those of Messrs. Copp Bros., Hamilton; Cockshutt & Co., Brantford, and J. Fleury, Aurora, Ont. All are famous manufacturers. The winner to be permitted to select his choice from the ordinary makes of any of these firms, for which Messrs. Nicholles & Renouf are the sole agents in British Columbia.

THE OTHER PRIZES

Will include a first class Rifle, Gun, Revolver, Webster's latest revised Unabridged Dictionary, beautiful Table Lamps, Albums, the Domestic Physician and many other articles of utility.

The Distribution of Prizes, will take place early in the incoming year, and will be under the superintendence of well-known reliable parties, full particulars of which will be announced hereafter, and which we are persuaded will give satisfaction to all interested.

Subscribe at Once.

The fact should not be lost sight of that those who subscribe the earliest get the most for their money, as two dollars—cash in advance—pays from the date of subscription to the first of January, 1888.

How to Subscribe.

Enclose $2 in a registered letter; writing name of subscriber (the party to whom the paper is to be mailed) and post office, in a plain hand, and address

CHAPTER V.

IMPRESSED.

Cuthbert might well be thankful that there would be no need for him to meet his father again that day in privacy unless summoned.

It was not quite clear to himself why he should choose to make his and Jenny's love known to old Strangfield before he spoke to his father; but men in mental straits will often to inclination without much inquiry, and that his father, to his way of thinking, was, of the two doors to be swallowed, the more ill-favored for his honesty to enter was the only reason he could have given you for carrying his bit of news to Strangfield first.

Into the school room he went, with the nervous brooding and face of unpeaceable thought, and mounted his stool, loathing the pantomime of his actions.

At ten o'clock with the punctuality that invites awe, entered Dr. Shaw; up rose the forms and the desks to salute this head, and wigs in the law courts spring into a flourish of vegetation when "my lord" comes rustling to the judgment seat. With a short bow—for pomp is difficult to five foot six of stockings and tail, though swelling with frill—the doctor took his seat, and with a smart rap on his desk summoned the Grecians to their labors.

Noon was the hour for a frisk in the playground.

To escape his father, Cuthbert joined the boys, but had no heart to mingle in their sports, though invited by some of the elder lads.

The English master, a cautious, reddish haired son of the Borderland, but of speech untainted by Ersé, unhaunted by Runic germs, came to him with a trim politeness of air and extolled the sky.

"Sir," said the English master, clapping some book under his arm, "this is weather to make boys fat with pleasure."

Cuthbert smiled.

"When I was a lad I ran most nimbly when the sun was hottest. It must please your father's son, Mr. Cuthbert, to see these boys so hearty and spirited."

"No doubt he is pleased," rejoined Cuthbert, listlessly.

"You will observe, sir, that health is a larger condition in the eyes of parents than education."

"It should be so."

"One should be a boy to lead boys, Mr. Cuthbert."

"Sometimes one gets tired of boys, though."

"It is plain, Mr. Shaw, that you find this business of teaching boys irksome."

"I need not deny it," replied Cuthbert, candidly, with a glance round the playground.

"But—pray pardon my freedom—you are a younger man than I, of bright promise, Mr. Shaw—forgive me—and ardent, as I may fairly presume from your abilities. I sometimes respectfully wonder that your father does not give scope to your ambitions, and deliver you, with such opportunities as his position warrants, to the world you could not fail to grace."

"Ah, Mr. Saunderson, there is much to wonder at," replied Cuthbert, gently. "Time and years are everything, if we have patience for the routine of phases. There is the little baronet crying—why has been bullying him?"—with which excuse he left the English master.

So the day wore away and the evening came, and when the boys had trooped to the dormitories Cuthbert went to his room to prepare his mind and person for the beginning of a difficulty. He had no acquaintance with Mr. Strangfield, but knew him well by sight, of course, as Jenny's father, and by hearsay as a male of a man in prejudice, rancorous as a moslem in his manner of belief, and with those disdains of blood precedence and factitious rights which filled the pot-houses of the time with eloquence, and gave a strut to the low man's stride. So, as a tactician should who knows that big ends are often compassed by small provisions, Cuthbert dressed himself in his soberest apparel—a well-worn monkey jacket and dark small clothes—resolved, at least, with true world cunning, that the hard-eyed Baptist should find nothing foppish in his dress to smell rankly to prepare prejudice.

Then, with his lips twitching to the strength of his silent arguments, our hero went lightly down the staircase, and softly passed his father's study, and out by the house door.

He had hoped to get away unseen; but lo! in front of the garden gate stood Mr. Saunderson, smoking a pipe and contemplatively enjoying the strong evening breeze. The twilight was small, and the moon reddening behind the glowing foreland lamp. Had Cuthbert chosen to walk on Mr. Saunderson would not have recognized him; but in his embarrassment he must needs stop and speak, whereat the master whipped his pipe out of his mouth and stared ceremoniously.

"A fresh evening, Mr. Saunderson. Pray continue to smoke."

"It is, I may truly say, my only indulgence," replied Mr. Saunderson, giving his pipe a loving shake. "There is less chance of my being observed here by the boys, than were I to light my pipe at the back of the house. You are going for a stroll, sir."

"Ay; one cannot do without exercise." And with a nod Cuthbert went on his way.

Mr. Saunderson looked after him earnestly, and when the young fellow had vanished in the fekting shadows, shook his head and betook himself to his pipe again, sucking strongly.

Mr. Strangfield's house was a long twenty minutes' walk from Greystone school, stepping it briskly; but even if the dust, when the curve was compassed, that drove full in his face had proved no hindrance to Cuthbert, the obnoxiousness of his mission, and the thoughts that it bred tweaking savagely at his nerves, would account for the frequent drag of his pace.

He had passed his trysting-place, and had turned the elbow of the road which laid the town broad under his eye, when the sounds of men's voices came up with the wind, and, in a few moments, he perceived a crowd of persons approaching him. The moon, stooping close of a pillow shaped cloud, threw out a full radiance, by which he saw that the crowd was a company of sailors—some ten of them at least—and that they walked in two gangs, one on either side three men, who strode abreast with heads dejectedly hung and their hands pinioned behind them.

"Deserters," thought Cuthbert, stepping aside.

"Stand!" shouted a youthful voice, "in the king's name! Thompson, here is a toe-and-heel for us. He'll make the complement, and no more sweethearts to break our hearts ashore."

The word "Stand!" though very forcibly delivered, produced no effect on Cuthbert, who could scarcely credit, indeed, that it was meant for him; and he was passing on when a young man in a cleak stepped in front of him.

"Now, my bantam, turn about! You're wanted."

"Do you address me?" exclaimed Cuthbert so much amazed that he looked behind him, half persuaded that there must be some one there for whom the accost was intended.

"You or the man in the moon, my hearty; whoever is the nearest."

"Suffer me to pass you, sir."

"Now, this is too bad," cried the young fellow, in a mock voice of consolation. "Oaths we are used to, but politeness in a son of a quid is fit for nothing but to get lush on tick with. Stand. I tell you! Damn it, don't you understand king's English?" for Cuthbert was pushing past.

"Make way for me. You are overstepping your duty, or laboring under an error."

"Ay, ay, we always do that. Thompson, give him a sheer to port. We'll argue as we walk."

A bushy-whiskered fellow approached Cuthbert, who sprang back a yard before the outstretched arm.

"Touch me at your peril!" he shouted.

"Come, come, take it coolly, man. All the argufication in the world 'll do no good. The service wants ye, so give us your hand upon it!" With a bound the bushy-whiskered man grasped Cuthbert's arm.

The three pinioned men looked on with a dull interest; the sailors turned their tobacco juices unconcernedly, glancing back at the town or up at the moon, muttering over the wet sull before them.

Cuthbert had one of those nervous systems which, in a fury, make steel of the hand and iron ringlets of the muscles. His white flat sword, like a snow flake on a rush of wind, pitched into the bend of the man Thompson's brow, and a pigtail wriggled in the dust, and a pair of boots tried to hit the moon.

A pigtail wriggled in the dust.

Now, having done this, had he used his heels, he would have saved himself, for he was of the build for swift running; whereas sailors are bad runners, though decent dancers. But his chivalrous courage, not disdaining flight, for the honorable reason that it never thought of flight, held him rooted, with nostrils quivering and gleaming eyes.

Thompson of the bushy whiskers, gathered himself off the road, and rubbing the bridge of his nose, looked with a cast in his eye at the gentleman in the cloak.

"We want no bloodshed," exclaimed that worthy. "Thompson, Jenkins, here, three of you make his hands fast and bring him along."

This was an order not to be disobeyed under pain of a whipping; willing backs must not be bloodily plowed for boyish obstinacy. So they went with a rush; the dust soared in a cloud as from under the heels of a flying horse. It was a wild fight, a mad resistance, with the hardhitting which the age of Mendoza and the slogster Crabbe made free with. But a sudden blow must end the unfair contest. Down went Cuthbert like a snuff seller's Scotchman under the lurch of a drunken man. In a moment his hands were bound; but his legs declining to exert themselves, he was hoisted on to the shoulders of a couple of stout seamen and the party proceeded smartly up the hill toward the gorge that led to the sea.

Game Fowls in the Canary Isles.

In one of our walks about the town we stumbled on a fine collection of game cocks. Quite a large house seemed to be appropriated for their use, and on the ground in the street in front of it were standing thirty or forty latticed bottomless boxes or coops, each one containing a game cock; and looking through the open doors we saw that there were plenty more in the house. They were brought out evidently for sun and air, and also for the pleasures of conversation, for they were crowing and cock-a-doodling together in a most vigorous and instructive manner. A man took them out one by one in his hands inspecting them carefully. Some he replaced evidently finding them all right, and others he took to another man who was straddling a bench under the shade of a wall.

The second man seemed to be a professor. He minutely examined the game cock submitted to him, which as a phrenologist feels of a subject's head, critically inspecting its legs and spurs, and thrusting his nose against its body up among the feathers and smelling it all over. The tail feathers of each bird were separated from the plumage of the body by about an inch of space, from which the down had been pulled out, and the bare, red skin shone like a scarlet ring. If any down or fuzz appeared in this zone he plucked it out either with his fingers or with some tweezers. Then he turned his attention to the comb, and with a keen pair of scissors trimmed it off close to the head, as a barber cuts a man's hair. The bird seemed to be quite unconscious of suffering during all these operations, and offered no objection either by outcry or struggling; and when replaced in the coop strutted and crowed as though proud of the excellence of its toilet. The fowls were scrupulously cared for and to my unskilled eyes the collection seemed to be a fine one.—Teneriffe Cor. Detroit Free Press.

DR. LEDUC'S PERIODICAL PILLS.

These Pills are compounded from the purest drugs, from those only which are known to act upon the generative organs in females. It is a well known fact that a very large proportion of the ills to which females are liable, are the direct results of suppressed or disordered menstruation, and it is necessary therefore that safe and reliable remedy for the cure of these diseases be placed within the reach of every one. Dr. LeDuc's Pills are the oldest, most generally used, and most reliable remedy for the cure of suppressed menstruation, and other uterine diseases, and wherever they have been introduced have driven every other remedy out of the market. They were first introduced into Paris, France, by Dr. LeDuc in 1839, and have so gained the confidence of the public that they have for years been the standing remedy in every household. DR. VANMONCISCAR,

THE WELL-KNOWN

SPECIALIST,

Proprietor & Consulting Physician of the Only Private Dispensary on the Pacific Coast, now permanently located at 132, 134, Third Street, Portland, Or.

DR. VANMONCISCAR has made the treatment of Private Diseases of Men a special study and practice for many years. Over 4000 cases treated yearly. Recent cases of private diseases cured in a short time. Ulcers, Humors and Blotches on Face or Body cured without giving Mercury or other Poisons. Mercury is the curse of the human race. Your children will suffer from its effects. Avoid it as you would avoid any deadly Drug, and use no more. These diseases are being cured at this Dispensary without Mercury.

DR. VANMONCISCAR

is a graduate of a regular Medical College, is well known over the United States and Canada by and it is a well known fact that for years he has confined himself to the study and treatment of Sexual and Chronic Diseases, thus giving him advantages few possess. Dr. Vanmonciscar addresses himself particularly to those who have already tried various physicians and remedies from which they have received no benefit, and who, in fact, have done them more harm than good. Medicine, like all other sciences, is progressive, and every year shows proof of the advance by a combination of remedies of great curative power. Dr. Vanmonciscar has so arranged his treatment that it will afford not only immediate relief, but permanent cures.

YOUNG MEN

who are suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretions showing some of the following symptoms: Nervous and Physical Debility, Impotency (Incapacity) Lost Manhood, Abuses of the system, Exhausted Vitality, Confusion of Ideas, Dull and Loss of Brilliancy to the Eye, Aversion to Society, Despondency, Pimples on the Face, Loss of Energy, and Frequency of Urinating. You may be in the first stages, but remember you are fast approaching the last. Do not let false pride and sham modesty deter you from attending to your ailments. Many a bright and naturally gifted young man, endowed with genius, has permitted his case to run on and on, until remorse racked his intellect, and finally death claimed its victim. Remember that "Procrastination is the thief of time." So lay aside your pride, and consult one who thoroughly understands your ailment, and who will know your case, and find permanent relief for an ailment that has made day a drudgery and night hideous. Thousands upon thousands of men in good standing in the social world, of prominence in the world, are today suffering from the fruits of their doings, the seeds of which were sown during moments of thoughtlessness. Young man turn and gaze upon thy companion, or seek the mirror for proof to substantiate the fact. Oh! could he control the arm of Fate, or but breathe life to live again, then I could not appeal to you more sincerely. Let your mind wander back to the much cherished counsels of a loving father, and remember what you are to-day. Though you may be the present filling a station in society, the time is not inevitable, in fate when your brilliancy will, like a star, depart, leaving you a stranded wreck—desolate, forgotten and lost; so embrace the opportunity and enjoy life and happiness longer. If you claim to be a man, set your part manly. Do not console yourself with the thought that Nature will help itself, for in doing so you not only fan the flame, but wreck Nature and yourself. Remember, "Large oaks from little acorns grow," "Little Sin permitts fatal diseases."

Middle-aged Men,

married or single, who are prematurely old as a result of excesses or youthful follies, and who are troubled by too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and finding a deposit of red sediment in the urine, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the urine will first be of a thin or milky hue, and again changing to a dark or turbid appearance, causing nervous debility and loss of Vitality. Remember, this is the second stage of Seminal Weakness. In all such cases a perfect cure is guaranteed, and a radical restoration of the Genito-Urinary Organs. All interviews and letters are sacredly confidential. Medicine packed so as not to excite curiosity, and sent by express, if full description of case is given; but one personal interview is all essential to a permanent cure. Patients treated by mail or express. Call and consult one who understands your ailment. Office hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays, 10 A. M. to 2 P. M.

DIED.

ISAACS—At 10 o'clock this morning, Oct. 20th, Kate, the beloved wife of J. Isaacs, Esq., Johnson street, aged 41 years.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—City Council meets to-night.

—No cases at the Police Court to-day.

—Ask your grocer for the Portland Roller flour. *

—The Portland flour has taken the medal every year since its existence. *

—Money saved by having your plans made by FISHER, the ARCHITECT

—All first class dealers and grocers keep the Portland Roller flour. Buy no other. *

—About twenty-five Chinamen left for the mainland this morning to work on the railroad.

—Photographic views along the line of the C. P. R. in B. C., for sale at R. MAYNARD's, Douglas St.

—The teachers of the Victoria Public School will have an excursion to Nanaimo on Saturday the 23rd inst.

—The C. P. R. agent expects that passenger trains will commence running into New Westminster next week.

—The Calgary Herald speaks very highly of the lumber which has been received there from New Westminster.

—Larry McGovern, an Esquimalt drunk, was yesterday given one month by Squire Fisher.

—Improvements on Tacoma's great hotel, "The Tacoma," costing $5000, have been completed.

—Olympia ships daily 50 sacks of oysters, in weight about two tons. A fair quantity of these bivalves come to Victoria for consumption.

—Go to Fisher for the best quality of cemetery marble work at reasonable prices; Gordon street, in rear of Windsor Hotel. *

—The Vancouver City Council has received a letter from Surveyor-General Gore, stating that a grant for a cemetery would be made by the government.

—There was no mail from the east last night. The land slide at Ashcroft, which was worse probably than reported, was the cause.

—Fresh oysters by the bottle delivered to all parts of the city. Young Bros., New England Bakery, Government street, between Yates and Johnson streets. *

—The rights of the Dominion or provincial governments to the minerals in the railway belt will come up for agreement at Ottawa, on the 27th.

—McLellan & Earle in closing their contract on the Island Railway, have given $119.63 to the Royal Hospital. The gift is a generous one.

—The Columbian says the Triumph lost through desertion about 100 marines and crew during the time she has been on the Esquimalt station.

—The Portland Roller Mills flour was awarded the first gold medal at the Mechanics Fair, October 16th, at Portland, Oregon, for superiority against all other Oregon flours. *

—The fire alarm last night was another of those unnecessarily frequent "mistakes." Crying "wolf, wolf," when there is no such ravenous animal around, is bad policy.

—Sam Booth, the old reliable coal deliverer, who is known to almost every house-keeper in the city, has resumed his accustomed place on the delivery truck of the Central coal yard.

—F. C. Innes & Co., Real Estate Brokers, and Financial Agents, Vancouver, B. C., attend promptly to all enquiries about the terminal city; Free Reading Room for use of strangers arriving in Vancouver. *

—The law will take its course in the case of Mallot, the Eagle Pass murderer, instructions having been received from Ottawa to that effect. No mention was made of the Chinaman sentenced to death at the same time.

—For fancy cakes, bread, pies, and crackers of all kinds leave your orders at the New England Bakery, Government street. Wedding cakes made to order at short notice. Goods delivered to all parts of the city. Young Bros. *

—Drs. Lefevre and McGuigan, of Vancouver, have offered to attend to the sick poor people free of charge. The question that troubles us is, how are the doctors, if they are not rich, going to scratch out a living in the meantime?

—Messrs. S. W. McMichael, Financial Inspector, and Thos. J. Walters, accountant, of the customs department, are registered at the Clarence. They will inspect the different custom houses of the Province.

—Parties wishing to invest in Port Moody property will have an opportunity of so doing by calling on Captain W. R. Clarke, at his salesroom, Yates street, where prices, conditions and all other information can be obtained. The property offered is on the Clarke estate, and is considered to be the most valuable in the port.

A GENEROUS DEED.

Every person knows that Mr. Joe Spratt is a generous, whole-souled man, and so it will not surprise them to learn that he has refused to take one cent from the council for finishing the work in connection with the electric light engine and boiler, left unfinished at the time of Mr. Vigor's death. He requested that the entire sum, $290.15, be paid to Mrs. Vigor, the widow of the deceased steamboat inspector, and this will be done by the council to-night. What a pity we had not a few hundred Spratts in this city.

CORSETS. CORSETS. CORSETS.

We make corsets a specialty. Having rarely less than 500 pairs in stock we can at all times offer the largest variety to be found in the city. Amongst those lately received are the "COUTON," a remarkably strong, well made, model shaped Corset, at a very low price, guaranteed for a twelvemonth; and the "INSURANCE," the the greatest novelty in Corsets yet introduced.

KENNEDY DEAD.

Kennedy, the famous Scottish vocalist, died at Stratford, Ont., on the 13th of the present month, aged 52 years. He was probably the most widely known in the world, having several times, accompanied by his talented family, sung his way around the globe, visiting almost every settlement in every colony of the Crown. He was a characteristic Scotchman. His remains will be taken to his native land for interment.

FROM METLAKATLAH.

Arrival of the Maude—Passengers and Freight—Indians Still Rebellious.

The steamer Maude, Captain Myers, arrived from Port Simpson and way ports this morning, having left the Skeena on Saturday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Among were Rev. C. B. Nash, of Metlakatlah; Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Jennings, of Port Essington; Mr. Morgan, H. B. agent at Lorne Creek; John Sayer and several others. The condition of the

at Metlakatlah is practically unchanged. Mr. Tuck, C. E., with a patience and perseverance that would have covered him all over with glory in another place and under other circumstances, continues his futile efforts to make the survey. He goes out every morning and is met with punctilious regularity by a deputation of Duncan's braves, who quietly but firmly protest against

THE SURVEY.

The instrument is pulled down as quickly as it is put up, the stakes are pulled out and all the old tactics are successfully resorted to defeat the object the government has in view. Fortunately for all concerned, Mr. Tuck has not overstepped the law, as it is evidently the desire of Mr. Duncan that he should, and the peace has been preserved. But emboldened by seeming success, the Autocrat of Metlakatlah has gone and has actually invaded the premises of Bishop Ridley. On Saturday morning, Oct. 2nd, at 6:30, part of the garden fence and also a door leading into the yard of the Mission House, was forcibly torn down and a number of Duncan's Indians entered, carrying planks and other articles for building a house. In a few minutes a crowd of them were busily engaged in erecting a dwelling house, with all possible speed. By noon they had constructed a frame house, 28 feet by 18, and 10 feet high, on the two acre reserve, just under the Bishop's dining room windows. Bishop Ridley was away at the time, and thus advantage was taken of a lady's helplessness. Some of

A STEP FARTHER,

are always in the house, and prove a source of much annoyance to the residents of the Mission. Some kind of action must be taken by the government soon, if worse troubles are to be avoided. The law must be respected, and Indians as well as white rowdies be taught that they cannot violate it with impunity. Mr. Duncan does not disguise his intentions—to retain the right and title to all land in the country for the Indians. Very naturally the white residents are beginning to think that the Indian Department of the Dominion government must be taking a holiday, and that if their treatment and neglect is a sample of the "old to morrow policy" that prevailed in the northwest it is not surprising that there should have been a rebellion.

THE WEATHER

since last steamer has been wet and disagreeable. Rain has fallen incessingly for several months, and shows little sign of abating.

THE MINING NEWS

from Lorne Creek is meagre and of no importance. The miners have worked against great difficulties and it was not until far into the summer that they got to real work at all. Some of them have made expenses, but very few have done any better.

GOLD DUST.

Mr. Morgan brought down about $5000 in gold dust, from Lorne Creek. The H. B. branch at that place has been closed, and most of the miners are leaving for the season. Some will return next spring.

CONSIGNEES.

Thos. Pard, 3 bundles furs; Dennis Harris, 2 pair horses; H. B. Co., 8 pkgs skins; J. Engelhart, 48 bbls salmon; Muirhead & Mann, 8000 feet lumber; Welch Rithet & Co., 3300 cases and 227 bbls salmon; R. H. Smith, 130 bbls boxes; Albion Iron Works, 1 iron wheel.

PAID THE FINE.

Captain Libby, representing the owners of the tug Tacoma, was in the city yesterday, and arranged with Collector Hamley the claim of the customs department against that vessel for acting as a wrecker on the ship Rosenfeld, after she had struck a rock in Canadian waters. A fine of $460 was imposed, and the Tacoma could not come into this port until it was paid, otherwise she would have been seized. Captain Libby paid the fine yesterday. The Rosenfeld, it will be remembered, ran on Gabriola reef, when in tow of the Tacoma, and the tug afterwards carried off a large quantity of the wreckage, contrary to international law. The purchasers of the Rosenfield demanded and received compensation for property taken from the ship after it was sold by auction, and now—making a virtue out of a necessity—the tug owners have paid the claim of the Canadian customs and again can enter our port without danger of detention.

OBITUARY.

At ten o'clock this morning, Kate, the beloved wife of J. Isaacs, expired at her home, Johnson street. The deceased lady was out visiting friends on Sunday afternoon last and upon returning home was taken with a fit of coughing. She was placed upon a couch by her husband and brother from which she never arose. Doctors Helmcken, senior and junior, were called in but from the first pronounced her case as hopeless, as she was paralyzed before their arrival. Deceased was 47 years of age, a native of London, Eng., and endeared to all who knew her. She was a sister of Mr. J. Hart, of the Indian Bazaar, Johnson street. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Indian Bazaar and the remains will be interred in the Jewish cemetery.

THE FINEST DISPLAY.

The Minister of Agriculture has received a report from Prof. Wm. Saunders, in reference to the fruits, field roots, and vegetables sent from the Dominion to the Colonial Exhibition, in which he says: "In British Columbia the collections have been made by Mr. John Jessop, of Victoria, from seven different sections of the province, covering an area of 350 miles from east to west and 150 miles from north to south. The entire collection fills fifty-one cases, and is without doubt the finest display of British Columbia products ever brought together."

DIED IN CALIFORNIA.

The death of Frank Brown at the residence of his brother-in-law, R. Mills, in Hanford, California, occured on the 19th inst. Deceased was stricken down by typhoid fever, and died after a few days' illness. He was a native of this city, and the youngest son of Mr. C. B. Brown. The announcement of his death, so untimely and unexpected, is a great shock to his relatives and friends with whom his genial disposition and generous nature will always remain a pleasant memory.

PENNY WISDOM.

The little new box drain on Government street is in some places three feet below the surface of the street. The object apparently is to catch the mud after it is washed to the side. It can then be shovelled out and caught over again.

LOVE AND JEALOUSY.

A St. Louis Actress Stabbed by Her Husband—Suicide of Her Slayer.

A tragedy in which love and jealousy formed a prominent feature lately enacted at Esher's Variety Theatre, St. Louis. Josie Martelle has been the favorite actress in that establishment for two years, and her admirers were numerous. About twelve months ago she became acquainted with a young man named Frank Sandmeyer, a clerk at the time in a second-hand furniture store. He was about ten years her junior, but their love was genuine. About three month ago they were married, and were apparently as happy as two birds in a nest. But it seems the young husband finally objected to her conversation with the male employees of the theatre.

They entered the dressing-room of the theatre last night at about 7:30 o'clock, and sitting in one corner of the room engaged in earnest conversation for several minutes. None of the three or four girls present heard any of their conversation until they arose, when he said,

"Are you going to do that?"

"No, Frankie," she replied, and before the frightened girl realized what was taking place he had thrown his arm around her neck and plunged a dagger into her left side. She broke away from him, receiving another cut on the arm as she started to run into the next room, when she fell, dying in a few minutes. Before he had seen the result of his work the murderer thrust the weapon into his breast five times, falling dead while raising his arm for another stroke. The murdered woman, whose maiden name was Ella Lanham, was born in Centralia, Ill., and was about thirty years old. She had been on the variety stage fifteen years.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

The Members Resolve to Hand the Library Over to the City.

At the meeting of the members of the Mechanics' Literary Institute last evening, the President, Mr. John Jessop, occupied the chair. He stated that the income was not equal to the expenditure, and it was impossible to further maintain the institute with the present inadequate support. The statement of the librarian showed an average deficit of $65 per month, while the regular current expenses amount to $135 monthly. There was now a liability of $750, and assets of $668.50 in stock and $70 dues, while the library was valued at $3,500.

Mr. W. K. Bull then moved, seconded by Mr. Finney, that the committee of management be and they are hereby fully authorized and empowered to take such steps and pass such by-laws as they may deem advisable to wind up the business of the institution, and dissolve the society, provided that due provision be made for payment of all the debts and liabilities of the institute.

After a general discussion, evincing a unanimous opinion in favor of transferring the library to the city and making it free, it was Moved by Mr. R. Williams, M. A., seconded by Mr. Blackburn, "that the committee be authorized to hand over the library of this institution to the City Council, as a free, or partially free, circulation library." Carried.

Moved by Mr. Bull, seconded by Mr. Ross, "That the secretary be instructed to send a communication to the City Council with copies of the resolutions passed at this meeting." Carried.

Mr. R. Williams, M. A., was put on the committee to confer and act in the transfer of the library to the city.

The meeting then adjourned.
